

Texans for Public Education Runoff Cheat Sheet – May 2022

How to vote: You must vote in the runoff for the same party you voted for in the Primary. If you voted in the Republican Primary in March, you must vote in the Republican runoff election. If you voted in the Democratic Primary in March, you must vote in the Democratic runoff election. If you did not vote in March, you can vote in the runoff of your choice.

Not every district will have a runoff. If your district is not listed here, there is no runoff in your area. You are encouraged to research and vote in your local city, school district, or bond elections. T4PE does not research and rate those races. Nor do we make recommendations on the propositions that will be on the ballot.

Statewide Offices

Democratic Runoffs

Lieutenant Governor	Voter's Choice
Land Commissioner	Voter's Choice
Attorney General	Joe Jaworski

Republican Runoffs

Land Commissioner	Tim Westley
Attorney General	Undervote – Leave Blank

State Board of Education

Democratic Runoffs

District 1	Melissa Ortega
District 2	Pete Garcia
District 4	Staci Childs

Republican Runoffs

District 13	Undervote – leave blank
-------------	-------------------------

Texas Senate

Democratic Runoffs

District 27	Sara Stapleton-Barrera
-------------	------------------------

Republican Runoffs

District 24	Undervote – leave blank
-------------	-------------------------

Texas House

Democratic Runoffs

District 22	Voter's Choice
District 33	Voter's Choice
District 37	Ruben Cortez
District 70	Cassandra Garcia Hernandez
District 76	Voter's Choice
District 92	Salman Bhojani
District 100	Venton Jones
District 114	John Bryant

Republican Runoffs

District 12	Kyle Kacal
District 17	Paul Pape
District 19	Undervote – leave blank
District 23	Undervote – leave blank
District 52	Undervote – leave blank
District 60	Glenn Rogers
District 61	Undervote – leave blank
District 63	Ben Bumgarner
District 70	Jamee Jolly
District 73	Barron Casteel
District 84	Undervote – leave blank
District 85	Phil Stephenson
District 91	Undervote – leave blank
District 93	Laura Hill
District 122	Undervote – leave blank